FOR PARTIES OF EIGHT OR MORE

Magnificent formal gardens, a five-tier opera house and a restaurant inside a house visited by Henry VIII and Elizabeth I make for an experience that is beyond stylish. It's too good to miss.

But most importantly, the opera is top-notch.

Glyndebourne has made famous the format of English summer opera the world over: the long leisurely interval and the tranquillity of a garden. We welcome groups from around the world; many return year after year.

Debbie Davies, Head of Groups, will tailor the evening to your requirements and will be with you through the evening.

Die Walküre (WAGNER) fuses music and drama unforgettably.

Eugene Onegin (TCHAIKOVSKY) is the archetypal Russian opera.

Elisir d'amore (DONIZETTI) is endlessly witty and endlessly touching.

Sweeney Todd (SONDHEIM) stars Bryn Terfel in one of his towering signature roles.

Options

- Stalls seats or a private Grand Tier box
- Fine dining during the long interval in the Duchess Restaurant within the historic house
- Pre-performance: an Indian pavilion in the Rose Garden with canapés and drinks
- Pre-performance: tea and cake in the Croquet Lawn Marquee
- Or meet up at the White Wisteria Champagne Bar
- A delectable picnic in a private pavilion

Where?

We are on the edge of London.

The five-tier opera house with a large orchestra pit is modelled on La Scala, Milan. Its acoustic and intimacy have been deemed exceptional. It nestles in the woodland behind West Horsley Place. The opera house is a 40-minute drive from Heathrow and Gatwick Airports.
